

Meridian Construction Consultants CEO Successfully Completes Another Year with Angel Flight
--Lynn Murtagh passes ten year anniversary as a pilot -

Fort Myers, FL: (October 21, 2008) . . . Lynn Murtagh, CEO of Fort Myers based Meridian Construction Consultants, Inc., has just recently passed his tenth anniversary with the Angel Flight program. He has been a volunteer pilot since the 1990's and is eager and ready to fly when called upon. During this supporting time, Murtagh has flown dozens of patients, to various destinations throughout the South Eastern United States.

When asked about his most memorable flight, Murtagh tells the story of once being contacted while he was in the middle of a golf match. He needed to rush a patient to Gainesville for a heart transplant. The patient was so grateful that after the successful procedure he sent Mr. Murtagh a thank you note along with post surgery photos.

Volunteer pilots donate their time, money and personal aircrafts for this charitable cause. Angel Flight was created for those in medical need for transportation throughout the United States. This program is financially supported through their volunteer pilots, organizations and individuals. To donate or learn more about this rewarding charity go to www.angelflight.com.
